Pitch

The journey beats the destination. Sorry — to really feel it, you have to be a cyborg cat.

Description

People spend their whole lives chasing a goal, and when they reach it, they don't feel the joy they expected at the start of the journey. Apparently, to be happy you just have to understand that what matters isn't the goal but the motion. And to understand that, you'd have to be — no more, no less — a cyber-cat and a space wanderer. So tough luck.

Appendix A: Lyrics

Deep Space is my home
Thirty eight chromosomes
One hundred billion neurons
Plus in my blood are nano robots
I'm a simple space cat
My name is Tomcat
I'm half-automatic
And my life is a magnum opus

Planets in space
Populated by thousands of races
Cat races and Ape races
And even together
Even dolphins have home
A nice zero gravity home
Cozy and safe orbits home
Designed forever

Space and darkness ahead,
Behind the stars is tiny led
New knowledge or dread
Who can resist deep space calling?
I'm moving to my goal
Around a double black hole
Via Dolphin Patrol
To new stars my ship is crawling

This is the only way for me
In the vast galaxy sea
Only way to be free
In this nice Universe
And every my act
It's my tool, my parallax
To see the Universe in facts
As cosmical dance...

Start self-checkup
Optimistic setup
Milky-tea cup
Who's my contender?
quick brain warm-up
My mind's clean-up
Never give up
Never surrender

Galaxy light
my life is a fight
Like a striped knight
knowledge defender
My ship is bright
In perpetual flight
A mote in the night
An everywhere outlander

I'm playing hard rock
At the third cargo dock
Every day at five o'clock
Just because it's amazing
No one can hear
Nearest planet's away in light year
Deep space clean and clear

Deep Space is my home
My life a permanent roam
Billions of stars are my dome
Now and forever
My spaceship's in the stream
Exactly like in my dream
Me and my ship, we're a team
Roaming together

Deep Space is my home
Deep Space is my home

Appendix B: Epigraphs

All civilizations become either spacefaring or extinct.

— Carl Sagan — Astronomer, astrophysicist, and science communicator,

Exploration is in our nature. We began as wanderers, and we are wanderers still.

— Carl Sagan — Astronomer, astrophysicist, and science communicator,

I don't think the human race will survive the next thousand years unless we spread into space.

— Stephen Hawking — Theoretical physicist, cosmologist, and author.,

Our only chance of long-term survival is not to remain inward-looking on planet Earth, but to spread out into space.
