Pitch

A cosmic journey from comfort zone to the dark, but beautiful stars.

Description

"Mystical Tales" is a cosmic art-rock anthem about leaving safety behind and venturing into the unknown. The song follows a dreamer who breaks free from society's constraints and sets off into space.

Artist Quote

Our ancestors — and I mean the fish — conquered the ocean, then the land, then the sky. Now it's our turn to conquer space. Sure, it's warmer at home and there's way less radiation. But comfort was never meant to last.

Appendix A: Lyrics

In the world of the mystical tales
In the midst of darkness, you stand,
And here you're usually happy,
Yet bound by society's demand.

I was in doubt whether I should fly
From happy here to stars, to the unknown,
Above my head magnetic, deep, blue sky,
I had no choice, I flew away, my home is thrown

My engine warps the space and warps the time
It is my way in life to be a space roamer
I go ahead, for me it's prime.
It is my space, and I am the deep space owner.

Like a brave little hobbit,
I left my nice cozy hole
So, Universe, I'm going to grok it
Because my life is under my control

So I'm in the middle of the space odyssey,
I can see never seen before,
Endless space, lands and seas
In front of me like an open door..

Appendix B: Epigraphs

Remember to look up at the stars and not down at your feet.

— Stephen Hawking — Theoretical physicist, cosmologist, and author,

I have learned to use the word 'impossible' with the greatest caution.

— Wernher von Braun — Aerospace engineer and space architect,

Earth is the cradle of humanity, but mankind cannot stay in the cradle forever.
