Appendix A: Lyrics

In the world of the mystical tales
In the midst of darkness, you stand,
And here you're usually happy,
Yet bound by society's demand.

I was in doubt whether I should fly
From happy here to stars, to the unknown,
Above my head magnetic, deep, blue sky,
I had no choice, I flew away, my home is thrown

My engine warps the space and warps the time
It is my way in life to be a space roamer
I go ahead, for me it's prime.
It is my space, and I am the deep space owner.

Like a brave little hobbit,
I left my nice cozy hole
So, Universe, I'm going to grok it
Because my life is under my control

So I'm in the middle of the space odyssey,
I can see never seen before,
Endless space, lands and seas
In front of me like an open door..
